

Pronoun Case with Compound Objects and Subjects

Directions: For each sentence, choose the correct pronoun in parentheses. Write the pronoun in the blank to complete the sentence.

1. Our social studies teacher asked Danielle and (I / me) to prepare a report on Harriet Tubman.
2. The librarian helped (she / her) and me with the research.
3. Both (she / her) and I knew that Tubman led slaves to freedom on the Underground Railroad.
4. However, many facts about Tubman were new to both of (we / us).
5. Danielle and (I / me) learned that more than 300 slaves, including some of Harriet's family, owed their freedom to Tubman.
6. (She / her) and the runaways had to move secretly from one house to another along the Underground Railroad.
7. One source informed Danielle and (I / me) that Tubman wouldn't let any of her runaways turn back.
8. Slave owners placed a reward on Tubman's capture equivalent to $40,000. That fact surprised Danielle and (I / me).
9. Danielle and (I / me) learned that John Brown, another person dedicated to freeing slaves, praised Tubman in his speeches.
10. The librarian gave copies of some of Brown's speeches to Danielle and (I / me).